FEBRUARY CLASS HISTORY

Freshmen! We had at last attained high school but the rushing activity of prep school life was a bit bewildering in our first semester. During our 1A semester, however, we entered more into the spirit of the school, and so the C.I.C. and band added members who were destined to become the organization leaders as Seniors.

During our third year, we helped start the Foreman News on its career and many of the '38 class were on the staff. Among them were Mike Wozniak, editor-in-chief of the paper in his senior year, Bob Zeller, who became sports editor, and several others who contributed much to the progress and improvement of the paper. In this year also the first "Showboat" was given by the senior class to augment our Thanksgiving Fund. We all eagerly co-operated to make it a success.

The 4B semester came and went and before we knew it we had entered our last semester in high school. The C.I.C. election was held and Bob Zeller was elected President, Arnie Leverson, Vice-President; Elaine Johnson, Secretary; and Lorene Larsen, winner of Foreman's first popularity contest, as Treasurer. Then, as seniors, it was our turn to produce the "Showboat." "Sadie Mahoney," "And the Villain Still Pursued Her," will remain in our minds as one of our happiest occasions. Following this the big dramatic production of the year "Seventeen" was given with many of our class members starring. Bill Hackbarth, our athletic hero, was elected President; Mike Wozniak, Vice-President; Dorothy Seefurth, Secretary; and Berenice Gramith, Treasurer. With the help of our sponsors the committees were selected and the work on graduation activities started.

At last our long-awaited prom! With must sophistication we went to the Shawnee Country Club where we had a most glorious time. Class Day, and then came the biggest moment of all, Graduation night. We shall always remember the thrilling procession, the award of special honors, the welcome of Henry Wessel as Salutatorian, the inspirational farewell of Elaine Johnson as Valedictorian, and receiving the coveted diplomas. Four happy years passed and we shall always regard Foreman as a most pleasant memory.

BOB SMITH

Ring-ring-ring ho, hum, well if it isn't Russell Eddy just waking up from his long nap in high school. Of course he was not the only one sleeping from the way things look, Pete Aloisio must have been his roommate. Oh, there goes the doorbell, it must be the mail carrier, Everett Kilburg. The government is certainly making money on him because he can travel twice the distance as an ordinary man, but the trouble is after each letter he must stop and take his little beauty nap. Look what he brought us, a letter from the spick and span department. It reads:

Dear Sir:

Please place your rubbish in the can and not on top of it.

Yours truly,

RAY ROSENE,

Dept. of Streets and Alleys.

Now that we are ready, let's get in the car and go to the Forem Anita Horse Show. As the door of the car is opened we see none other than Eric Mohn as footman and Harry O'Park as chauffeur.

Driving along the beautiful entrance of the parade grounds we hear loud yelling, "Buy your hot-dogs here. Only five cents, ten cents on the inside." The seller is none other than the go-getter, Mel Schwuchow.

The car stops and out comes the ticket taker, Christ Regas, all dressed up as usual in a white tie, brown shirt, green coat, and red trousers. We drive up to the parking space and from there meander to the broadcasting room where Robert Zeller, world's greatest sports commentator, and his fiancée, Marion O'Brien, are giving the radio fans a description of the beautiful grounds.

From here we can see all the seats and boxes. Looking to the left side of the boxes we see the president of the vinegar works, Henry Wessel, and his stunning wife, Charlotte Bachman. Ray Morris, Doris Schmidt, Ray Anderson, Shirley Korterud, Mildred Lederer, Alma Misurelli, Lorraine Brown, Florence Richter, Lorene Larson, are nearby and sitting right in their midst beams "Lover" Bill Hackbarth.

In the boxes on the right side by chance we see Sir Roger Berg with his nurse Luella Lundberg, Sultan Robert Fabian, Countess Georgina Elliot, Count Arnold Levenson, Baron Frank Kneiss, and the Sultan's most beloved friend, Lorraine "Blues" Lukes.

Ladies and gentlemen, the world's five best bred horses are now forming in a line, the numbers, names, owners, and riders stand as follows:

No. 1—"Hold That Tiger," owned by a Tooth-pick company and ridden by Dot Seefurth.

No. 2—"One Long Chew," owned by the Chewy Chew Gum company and ridden by Elaine Johnson.

No. 3—"Just One More Chance," owned by Warren Peterson, President of the Blow-up Ammunition company and ridden by Bernice Gramith.

No. 4—"Ask the Man Who Blows One," owned by the Hold Your Breath company and ridden by Jeanette Hawthorne.

No. 5—"Never in a Million Years," owned by Gert Cook and ridden by Lynette Hartmann.

Starter Roland Scott cracks the whip and the horses begin to parade before the judges. They are now half way round and so far have been on their best behavior. Oh! Oh! Something happened—"Never in a Million Years" has stopped. Well, look at that, the rider is powdering her nose. Look Out! "One Long Chew" must have been frightened. He has jumped out of his line and is racing toward the judges' stand with terrific speed. "Never in a Million Years" has taken pursuit. "One Long Chew" is almost upon the judges but, just in the nick of time, "Never in a Million Years" changes the course of the wild demon, and has therefore saved the day. Because of her bravery, the judges have awarded her with the Blue Ribbon.

Well, folks, it was a very exciting Horse Show, but now that it is over let us try and find some more well-known persons.

Oh, oh, there's Gisela von der Lippe, the movie star, just getting in her car, and look who is still a step behind, Bill Levander. (Well, you can't blame him, can you?) Who is that hiding behind that car? Yes, I thought so; it's Myron Wozniak, still trying to get a few good jokes for his career.

Gee, I'm getting hungry, aren't you? You are! Good, let's go home and have a nice turkey dinner.

Once again we are driving through the beautiful entrance of the Forem Anita Parade Grounds, but this time saying "good-bye." Before we leave let us stop and get a program of the show. Can you imagine who is selling them? Shirley Stockseth!

Now that we are on the open road toward home, let's hope nothing else detains us. Is that someone roller skating or just walking? No, she's roller skating. I wonder who it is. Yes, it's Florence Bethke, rolling home, because she lost her carfare when she became excited and bounced her hero, Norman Stroditz.

The footman has just opened our door, so now for that delicious dinner, and don't forget the same place and time next year.

JUNE CLASS HISTORY

"Hey, freshie!"

"Room 420!"

"All freshies to the assembly hall!" are a few of the marked phrases that still linger in our somewhat worn-out brains in June, 1938, as we look back to the memorable days of September, 1934.

As we recall it the Century of Progress was a frequent topic of conversation and we visited this thrill of a century on school time not many days after we entered this institution of higher learning.

Another big feature of our initial year at Foreman was the first Foreman Year Book which developed into the Foreman you see before you today.

Then came the time when our freshman year was history and we became "Sophomores." This year marked the beginning of Foreman's journalistic undertaking, "The Foreman News." It also saw the school assume a military aspect with the organization of the R.O.T.C. The bright lights of the class were first evident when we organized as a group under the expert leadership of Lillian Calams as President, and her assistants, Jack Bogardus, Letty Jannings and Allan Peterson.

As Juniors we passed into the last half of our high school career. While Charles Czapar was gaining fame in the R.O.T.C. by becoming Battalion Commander, Ulrich Schwerdtfeger, Eleanore Youngberg and William Vizard were making scholastic history and Harry Wroblewski and Mildred Nelson were beginning to show signs of athletic ability. Our class was under the capable guidance of Jack Boland and Eleanore Youngberg, Dorothy Hawley and Merwyn Schaefer.

Seniors we became at last, and entered into the home stretch of our high school days, moving slowly but surely to the day called Commencement.

When Charles Czapar led the list of honorable mention and was promoted to the highest office attainable in a high school R.O.T.C., that of Cadet Major, we hit our stride.

The C.I.C. election was a closely contested event and the final tabulations showed Allan Peterson, President; Al Wistert, Vice-President; Ruth Marine, Secretary; and Eunice Nielson, Treasurer.

William Vizard, Editor-in-Chief of the "Foreman News," was elected Class President. Assisting Bill were Harry Wroblewski, Vice-President; Ella Jane Stevens, Secretary; and Arthur Henkel, Treasurer.

We shall never forget the prom which was held at the Evanston Country Club. Class Day, a gala affair, at which a glorious time was shared by all shall forever hold a spot in our hearts.

4A SENIOR COMMITTEE

The Prom Committee with its chairman, Jack Boland, the Social Committee, headed by Cordelia Vollendorf, and the Pin and Ring Committee with Ulrich Schwerdtfeger as chief, very successfully arranged for the graduating Seniors—a delightful prom at the Country Club of Evanston, social events climaxing in that charming innovation, "Senior Night," and the securing of rings to grace the hands of the graduates as they reach for their diplomas.

4A SENIOR COMMITTEE

The details of that all-important event, Graduation, are the concern of Richard Anderson and his Graduation Committee, while Auriole Wrzes and the Cap and Gown Committee must see to it that each graduate is outfitted appropriately for the occasion, and the Class Gift Committee, led by Eleanor Youngberg, must decide "What shall the class gift be?" Charles Czapar and the Class Day Committee are providing for that last real get-together, "Class Day," in a novel manner.

CLASS SPONSORS

To the sponsors of the various classes, 4A, 4B, 3A, 3B and 2A (and we hope fervently the administration will extend their worth to the 2B, 1A and 1B classes), we give our heartfelt thanks and express our appreciation for the splendid and effective way in which they have welded into units the various members of their groups. It has resulted not only in a finer class spirit but in school spirit as well. Good work!

4A CLASS REPRESENTATIVES

These students have represented their division rooms during the 4B and 4A semesters. Several have served in this capacity for five semesters. Their tasks have been many—arranging for class pins each semester, social functions, programs, refreshments, etc. Under their leadership four roller skating parties, two picnic hikes, trips to places of interest, and several school parties were held.

FRONT ROW: Diskin, Hawley, Mrs. Voelz, Miss Kelly, Kearn, Calams.

SECOND ROW: Stopka, Muntean, O'Keefe, Youngberg, Hansen, Golniewicz.

JUNE CLASS PROPHECY — 1938

Back in Chicago after twenty years! Times have changed since 1938. There's a "Tour the City for a Dime" bus. Let's hop on and see if we can find any of the old high school gang. Oh, oh, Ruth Frenzel is driving. We're starting. "First stop, the Water-front Airport." So Chicago finally got its airport, after all. Look, we're passing the Public Library. There is Nancy Foley and Marion Kopeyka standing at that window up there. They must be librarians. There is Laverne Kucera, Ruth Marine and Francis Golniewicz walking down Madison Street with lawyers' brief cases under their arms. And look at that big billboard on that side; a picture of Ulrich Schwerdtfeger, who is running for presidency of the United States. We're turning down the outer drive now. That prosperous looking man over there talking to the newsboy is William Vizard, President of our class and editor-in-chief of the Foreman News, now editor of The Daily Fib, the world's greatest nuisance.

Here we are at the airport. Lorraine Meyer and Arline Washkuhn are climbing into the cockpit of that red plane. And there goes Leslie Jacobsen in a pilot's uniform. He is the one who just flew Arthur Henkel, Chicago's wealthy playboy, all the way over to Spain and back, for a sun-ripened olive for Art's latest girl friend, Eleanor (Giggles) Koenig. Haven't you heard? Look at the crowd of women over there—Leona Jay, Irene Ursin, Ruth Brenke, Cordelia Vollendorf, Lillian Stewart, Dorothy Steele, Dorothy Shallcross, Lucille Rozetka, Bernardine Padroggio, and Leona Lesk. Why, they are bidding "Bon Voyage" to Chicago's gift to the ladies, George Janicki, who is sailing for France. And look at who is getting on the same plane with George—it's Ted Hursh, the internationally famed chemist, with Alford Andersen carrying the luggage. Here comes the mayor of Chicago, Jack Boland, to wish all our friends a pleasant journey. There's Dorothy Parkinson, air hostess, climbing into the same plane, too. We'd better hurry back to the bus; it's going to start.

"Next stop, Outdoor Music Hall." Yes, that's the new gigantic band shell that Chicago has just completed. Do you see that splendid yacht out there on the lake? I understand it belongs to Charles Czapar, multi-millionaire and former military instructor of the public high schools. Of course his better half, Alice Olsen, is the charming hostess. Look who is standing on that corner selling Fuller Brushes. It's Donald Jones! He always did like the outdoor life!

Here is the Music Hall. "All out." Let's go over and look at tonight's billboard. Just look at all the familiar names on this list—Wilbur Zelinsky, violinist; Marguerite Kern and Dorothy Brunner, Grand Opera Prima Donnas; Jack Bogardus, crooner; Rus Newman and his orchestra (Leonard Pabich is his pianist); Catherine Diskin and Robert Stein, saxophone duet; Henry Neri, organ grinder; and Bruce McLaughlin and his Harmonica. By the way, do you know who planned and constructed this enormous shell? It was George Kosmella, architect, in co-operation with John Knorr, Earl English, Sabath Angelillo, Frank Zalamana, Clarence Swanson, and Warren Anderson as engineers. A mighty fine job they made of it, too!

Well, here we go again; now it's to Chicago's own movie lot. Do you see that streamline street car there? Shirley Gates is the motorman. I understand it is one of Boland's "Keep Chicago Ahead" ideas—to employ pretty girls as motermen. See that man on the top of that flag pole? It's Edward Schoppa, current flag pole sitter champion. Look out! Here comes—there goes a fire engine, with Robert Young driving it. Do you see that sign over the beauty parlor there? "Evelyn Muehlbrandt's Facie Fixie Shoppe," and next door to it is "Louise Therstappen's Pastie Pastry Shoppe." And that orphanage on the corner, "Edward (Pop) Stapka's Tiny Tot's Haven." Look who's coming down the street—Richard Anderson, present president of the "Ye Olde Little Lulu Club," with Kenneth Walch, general stooge. And Ted Przewoznik, Western Union messenger boy, is running up to them with a telegram in his hand. Now we're going past a five-and-dime store. Note all the girls standing out in front. It must be their lunch hour. There's Vera Melberg, Margaret English, Dolores Jones, Mary Jane Hughes, Marjorie Christensen, Clara Turala, Helen Stade, Margaline Smith, Jeanette Bach, Beatrice Butkiewicz, La Raine Freitag, Florence Howard, Lola Andreoni, and Bernadine Chodera. And across the street, in front of a contemporary store, stands Florence Carr, Marion Evansen, Dorothy Fisher, Virginia Seminara and Virginia Olson. It's been a long time since we've seen any of them. Do you remember—oh, here we are at the studio.

Chicago is fast becoming another Hollywood. Let's glance around the lot. There is a group of extras. Do you recognize any of them? I see Laura Dressler, Bernice Augustine, Philomena

De Vos, William Dziagwa, Patricia Ford, Dolores Zurke, Rita Zak, Elsie Muth, Dorothy Knudsen, Lorraine Isban, Dorothy Hawley, Hazel Ebert, Francis Diesing, Edward Kryzszak, Ray Breuer, Margie McGuinness, William McCarthy, and Dorothy Finn. There's Clayton Koller, Shirley Temple's successor, and Bob Wheeler, Boris Karloff's understudy. Here comes several reporters—among them Walter Schnetzing, Robert Korsvik, Charles Vaid, Victor Colucci, William Sureck, Leo Smagach, Edgar Frimann, Ed Zartler, Clarence Wischmeyer, Ed Ofiara, Wilbert Nielsen, John D'Allesandro, John Maruszczak, and Eugene Nadrawski. They are trying to get a picture or a statement from Gordon O'Keefe, the screen's latest Romeo. But Gordon won't talk, and business manager, George Hansen, says, "Scram, boys, scram!" Look who has just shown up for her first screen test, pretty little Eunice Nielson, all flustered. Accompanying her is stern, serious Jerry Marcantonio, movie censor, and Veronica Mannion, columnist.

Let's drop into the studio lunchroom for a snack. Here are waitresses Evelyn Peterson, Elsie Schuh, Lorretta Stanislavek, Virginia Weiner, and Wanda Ziola, all ready and willing to serve us. Are there any other studio employees that we know? Seated at the table in the far corner I see Marion Thomas, who, our waitress tells us, gave up clerking in Sears to become a songstress. And in the other corner are Auriole Wrzes, Virginia Warren, Arlene Swanson, Harold Todd, Blenda Jones, Vernon Schock, John Nowak, Matt Chrapkowski, Constantine Coorlas, Joe Gielorowski, Eugene Jablonski, Harry Wroblewski, Warren Moss, all the guests of director Raymond Eckardt.

We'll pay our check to cashier Dorothy Albrecht and go over to the studio sets. Here is Set No. 1. I'll open the door. There's no one in here. Oh, yes, there are two people at the far end. Why, it's Betty Rosel teaching Al Wistert a ballet dance. Let's get out of here, quick! Here, this set appears more promising. My, oh my, it's Dorothy Chada teaching the studio kiddies their A, B, C's. There is Lillian Lyjak instructing older girls in Shorthand, Ethel Matthey teaching German, and Millie Nelson as a Physical Education instructor. This must be the studio school. We don't belong here. Well, let's try one more set to see if we can watch the stars at work. There is Ella Jane Stevens, Virginia Wahl, Casimir Mazurek, Catherine Ungero, Arline Milleville, Carmello Manago, and Letty Jannings enacting a scene from "Gone With the Wind." So they finally got around to filming it!

Well, our bus is about to leave, so we must say "Auf Wiedersehen" to all our friends. Here we go again. Now whither? "Last stop, the new City Hall." Oh, yes, I understand that Chicago has recently completed the largest administration building in the world. It needs a large executive force for its fast growing population. Notice that super highway we just passed? I saw a group of W.P.A. workers making repairs on it. Jerome Kupczyk, Kenneth Redmond, Russel Miller, Henry Bernarski, Robert Engels, and Merwyn Schaefer were some of the workers.

Well, here we are at the last stop. Just look at the size of the place! It must be all of sixty stories high, and a half-mile wide. Ah, here is a list of familiar names! "Eleanor Goldman, Marion Groen, Jennie Castronovo, Emily Bielenin, Loretta Gburek, Jane Wilson, and Eleanore Youngberg, Public Stenographers." They must have a rushing business, judging from the number of people in there. And on this side of the hall is another sign. "Iris Winsaur & Co., Undertakers." A regular miniature city, right here on this first floor. And there are other signs, "Bill Naughton, Loan Shark," "Virginia Zarnoski, Teleotypist," "Clara Stasko and Lillian Lundman, Dress Designers," "Helen Niess, Fancy Pastries," "Doris Leisering, Hand-Painted Greeting Cards," "Earl Waldenmeyer, Broker," "Virginia Kutta, Bookkeeper," and "Allan Peterson—Out to Lunch."

Wonder what they have on the second floor. Let's go up and see. What a line of pretty elevator girls—another one of Boland's inspirations, no doubt. There is Wanda Kalinowski, Bernice Gross, Wanda Slusarz, Jean Radwan, Lilyan Calams, Loretta Arendt, and Myra Jordan. Here is the second floor. It is the Domestic Relations Department. Charles Verdone, a general in the Italian Army, is consulting with Glenwood Jepson, chief executive of the City Disposal Department. Office boy Chester Rogawski is reading the sports page of today's newspaper; on the sly, of course. Proof-reader Edwin Jermalinski is busy at work over Gladys Rostkowski's annual report of "What's What in Chicago." And there are the department's stenographers, Irene Czapinski, Helen Stano, Gertrude Hovestol, Hilda Standard, and Cecelia Tokarzewski, talking over last night's band shell concert. Oh, oh! Here comes Lester Smith, income tax collector. Let's scram! See you tomorrow.

3B CLUB

The 3B Club was organized in the fall of 1937 under the sponsorship of Mrs. Laura Mussehl. The main purpose of the club was organization of the 3B students so that in the last year of high school they would be more compact as a group. The officers preside over a council, the members of which were elected through the division rooms. The various members headed committees which performed routine duties.

The cooperation and aid given to the club by the division teachers has been greatly appreciated.

One of the chief duties of the council members of the club was the organization of the vigilantes committee. This committee is made up of a representatives from each division in the school. During the spring semester of 1938 the average reduction of windows broken in each division is turned in. From these reports the total number of windows broken in the school is determined.

The people living around the school were contacted and asked to cooperate with us in lessening the window breakage.

We are happy to state that through the cooperation of the students, the faculty, and the neighbors the window breakage is rapidly declining. In the months of January and February no windows were broken. This is what we would like to see and hear at least six months out of every year.

As a token of appreciation Mr. Maier presented a movie to all the students in the school.

HELENE SLONZAK
1922—1938

*So live, that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan, which moves
To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not, like the quarry-slave at night,
Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.*

ART MUSIC DRAMA

O'Hara, Bogardus, Bucek, Levander, Becker, Landy, Moe (M.), Rosene, Smith, Resch, Wozniak.

SEVENTEEN

Under the artistic direction of the colorful dramatics coach, Miss Muriel MacKay, the presentation of Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen" was a pronounced success. This was reflected in the comment of the Freshman who declared "it was great," to the intellectual, sedate instructor who added enthusiastically, "Decidedly so. It had not only atmosphere, but a polish that is rare. It was the height of high school dramatics."

The audience enjoyed it immensely.

Orchids to you, Miss MacKay, and to your well-selected cast, for this delightful performance. We shall treasure a memory of you and of it!

CHARM SCHOOL

A GALA OCCASION!

Such was the pronouncement of Faculty, Seniors, Undergraduates and friends after the performances of "Charm School," directed by Miss Muriel MacKay. Foreman scored its greatest triumph with the brilliant innovation of "Senior Night," now a tradition.

The first evening performance was given before the crowded auditorium of appreciative Seniors; the second evening performance was given for the undergraduates who were also elated. To misquote Mr. Moses Maier, our genial principal, it was a charming cast directed by a charming coach that charmed a charming audience with "Charm School."

SETTING OF PLAY

"Snow White Suds in the Kingdom of Filth," the Clean-Up campaign play, was one of the hits of the school year. The play was written by Alaine Brandes, of Miss Zeeb's creative writing class, with the constructive suggestions of class members. Miss Helen Byrne, Head of the English Department, made a fine selection of dwarfs from her Freshmen classes. Miss Muriel MacKay, dramatics instructor, furnished the color, atmosphere and polish. Miss Helen Hart, with the aid of Miss Lagorio, Miss Felch and Miss Nelson, was the producer. With such an array of faculty talent, the play was bound to be good.

And the Freshmen, generally ignored in high school dramatics, stole the show! From the time the Seven Dwarfs sang Heigh Ho and marched across stage; each with pick ax over his left shoulder and a lantern in his right hand, to the drop of the final curtain when they were joyously turning cart wheels they were the cynosure of all eyes. The dwarfs had a rollicking time and their antics were so funny that the audience laughed and laughed and laughed.

Although the play was entertaining, its purpose was primarily instructional.

The play was presented to twelve assembly audiences and was so royally received that WEDC invited the cast to dramatize it in a half-hour radio broadcast.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES ON THE STAGE

"So the animals talk French too!"

What animals? Two rabbits and a fox. Where? At the Foreign Language Program. And why? Because they had to talk French. They were found in the pages of a French book in a little story entitled "La Queue du Lapin." Shirley Buckman, of Mrs. Bramkamp's division, met them, and liked them so much that she constructed a little play, recounting in two scenes and one act the misfortunes of the little rabbit.

If you saw the play, you remember Beverley Becker, of 128, nonchalantly confronting you with the stage props in her arm—one green thermos bottle and one blue lake. (The lake, by the way, was "created" by Joe Cienuich—and just to be sure that everyone knew it for what it was, it was neatly labeled "Le Lac.") After relating the story of the play, Beverley put the lake in its proper place with firmness and dispatch.

Do you recall Shirley hopping across the stage—quite the conventional rabbit, except that there flapped behind her a tail of really inaccurate length and fulsome curves? Ted Kaczor, of Division 205, costumed as a fox of sneaky mien, was responsible for the eventual loss of that tail. And it was Dorothy Krueger, the clockwatching angry Mama Rabbit of 323, who upbraided him bitterly for his low deed.

That same Assembly was Miss Dyer's Spanish Chorus making its debut, "El Ranch Grande." Josephine Concannon singing the solo, was the high rendered.

Miss Lawin's German Chorus sang the folk song, "Jaeger Leben," in a warm and charming manner which made one realize why these tunes are so universally beloved. And the round "Oh, Wie Wohl is mir am Abend" fairly made the audience want to chime in.

Then there was Miss Myer's Latin Group. Those two healthy American tourists, portrayed by Frank Johnson and George Huber, with what healthy appetites they came to table in that Paris restaurant in the play "In Gallia." It made more than one sensitive heart in the Foreman audience ache to see poor George unable to get food from that little French waitress (Lorraine Aniszeuski); while our able Latinist, Frank, had no difficulty at all in piling high his table. How skillfully he used the kinship between French and Latin all of us know—for didn't we see that elegant chicken ("Pullus" to you if you specialize in Latin—"Poulet" for those of a really French preference). There was an audible sound of appreciation among the Formanites when that bird appeared.

Yes, the foreign languages did show up well—on the stage.

SHOWBOAT

The 1937 Showboat steamed into Foreman harbor on November 17 and dropped anchor. Acclaimed by critics as the best since the yearly performances were inaugurated, the boat was not permitted to depart until it had exhibited its talents at two afternoon and one evening performances in our school auditorium, and several performances at various neighborhood schools.

Material and talent for the Showboat, a Senior sponsored affair, was recruited from students through a series of auditions, of which Mr. Vincent O'Connor was the judge.

It would be impossible to choose the most popular acts for they were all excellent, but the "meller-drammer" brought the house down every time.

POSTER CLUB

Whenever any Foreman organization feels the publicity urge they seek the Art Department. Advanced Art students meet every day and eagerly devote their talents to help promote school activities. Many contests, such as the Clean-Up Campaign, Peace, Fire Prevention, Broken Windows, and United States Air Mail, are entered by the students.

In previous semesters three murals for the auditorium stage were made and this semester students are designing a mural to be completed for Memorial Day.

NATIONAL PEACE POSTER CONTEST

Our gifted art student, Dorothy Fry, was one of the thirteen students who won honorable mention in the National Peace Poster contest held in Philadelphia during April. The competition included seventeen hundred contestants, representing forty-four states, who were divided into three groups, elementary, high school and college.

The theme was Peace which required an original slogan as well as design. Fine work, Dorothy. Foreman is proud of you!

U. S. AIR MAIL CONTEST

Lois Vannier, of Mrs. Schwartz's division, and a talented art student in Mr. O'Connor's Advanced Art class, won second award in the contest for the city of Chicago and the State of Illinois, in the United States Air Mail Poster contest. The poster design drawn by Lois was an airplane with a cancellation stamp trailing from the tail of the plane. Congratulations, Lois and Mr. O'Connor.

DRAMA CLASS

This happy group of students agree with Oscar Wilde that "acting is more real than life," which they demonstrated in their delightful performances of "Seventeen," and of "Charm School."

Under the talented direction of Miss Muriel MacKay, dramatics coach and public speaking instructor, they mastered not only the technique and grace of acting but also acquired that most difficult art—absorbing the color of life and then reflecting it on the stage.

Bravo!

BOYS' CHORUS

If you hear loud and clear singing during the fourth period you know that it is the Boys' Glee Club. This chorus consists of seventy boys under the direction of Miss Myrtle Nelson.

This chorus sings many songs such as the Border Ballad, Away to Rio, the Caisson Song, and will sing publicly in the Spring Festival.

BAND

The Foreman Band consists of about seventy boys and thirty girls. The Advanced Band has a repertory of good concert music, and prepared the "Calif of Bagdad" by Boieldieu, and "Fackeltanz" by Meyerbeer, for the 1938 annual band contest. This unit also participated in the Foreman music festival, and for the Memorial Day assembly.

The Intermediate and Beginning Bands have shown improvement, and their members are ready for advancement.

ORCHESTRA

The Foreman Orchestra of thirty players reflects steady improvement in tonal balance and musicianship. They participated in the 1938 annual orchestra contest, playing the overtures "Maritana" by Wallace, and "Mireille" by Gounod. The Orchestra also participated in the Foreman music festival and played for various assemblies and entertainments. A system of rotation devised by Capt. Guy Reid, Foreman's instrumental instructor, has effected uniformity of bowing, and improved the violin sections.

Among the noteworthy achievements of this group was their whole-hearted co-operation in making our Open House a huge success, and their presentation of the beautiful illuminated globe to the library. They are now supporting the Spring Music Festival.

LIBRARY STAFF

"What's a good book?"

"Where are the short story books?"

"Is my library card here?"

These queries are some of the questions student library assistants answer each day. Besides these, they charge and discharge books and magazines, distribute library admit slips each period, watch the reference books, and help students.

Under the careful supervision of Miss Fahey, the library staff of over twenty-five ready and willing boys and girls serve Foremanites throughout the day.

FOREMANUAL STAFF

With a sigh of mingled relief and regret we cover the typewriter, push back the paste jar and scissors, and toss the blue pencil into oblivion. Our task, annoying and yet pleasant, is over. The distant hum of the roaring presses is a rhapsody that plunges us into reverie. Another milestone is passed and the Staff has recorded Foreman's joys and triumphs within the pages of the annual.

The esprit de corps of the Staff was enviable! Criticism, advice, suggestions, ribbing, razzing, banter and repartee were given good-naturedly and accepted likewise.

Ulrich Schwerdtfeger, selected by the literary adviser as Editor-in-Chief, well merited that honor. He proved a scholar, a gentleman and an artist. He worked untiringly. The running heads and the footlines, as well as the divisional pages, are testimony of his artistic ability. Quiet, modest and able, he was the ballast for the Staff.

Shirley Stockseth was the capable editor for the February graduates. Unfortunately the mid-year class did not have much to do, as we were uncertain whether or not there would be a Foremanual this year.

William Vizard, "Bill" to us, Editor-in-Chief of the Foreman News and President of the June class, was editor for his group. Experienced, dependable, resourceful—a wealth of ideas—we deferred to his judgment in matters of arrangement, layouts, type, etc.

Eleanore Youngberg, Valedictorian, Arline Milleville, Corinne Kolbe, 3B, and Erminia Magistrelli, 4B, proved their calibre with their invaluable services. They had charge of those annoying and exacting details which make or mar an annual. Their task, too, was that of tactfully prodding dilatory contributors.

Space forbids our mentioning each member and the part he played in editing the 1938 Foremanual. Suffice to say, one thought dominated each member: to produce the best Foremanual possible.

Fourteen out of twenty-five Seniors on the Staff are National Honor students, including the Valedictorian and the Salutarian, two are Class Officers (President and Treasurer); and eleven were voted "notables" by their fellow classmates.

What a Staff!

FOREMAN NEWS

"Copy boy! Copy boy!" Such is the cry heard in every newspaper office during the hustle and bustle of meeting the deadline. Sounds, not unlike these, are heard in the office of the Foreman News when it becomes time to "put the paper to bed." Because efficiency is the keynote, the News has always come out on time, a record of which the staff may be justly proud.

From the reporter's notebook to the printed paper, it is an all-student publication. Students write it, students sell, and students buy it. The staff is responsible for the securing of the information, writing it up in newspaper style, headlining, careful copy-reading, pasting of the dummy, etc. In fact the News might be called a scale model of any metropolitan paper, with its cartoons, crossword puzzles, features columns, sports and up-to-the-minute news.

POSTER CONTEST IN MATHEMATICS

Foreman has again been asked to display some of the fine work done by the students in mathematics. About 12 posters were sent down to the 9th floor of Mandel Brothers, where they are on display with posters from other Chicago schools.

Many fine posters came in after May 9. However, we plan, at Foreman, a poster exhibit of the work on hand the last of May. Mr. Jenkins is in charge of this contest.

THAT MATH EXHIBIT

The Mathematics Department has set the pace at Foreman!

Last fall the faculty members of that versatile department looked for a goal of unusual and difficult attainment and then set out courageously and wisely to achieve it. So successful were they in their bold venture that the Planetarium, criterion of science, heard the plaudits of seasoned mathematicians and urged Foreman to submit its exhibition, originally intended only for Open House, to all Chicagoans. Consequently we accepted the invitation to place our exhibit in a choice location at the Planetarium, where part of the elaborate exhibit is shown in the above picture. So enthusiastic was its reception by the public that the Planetarium has again requested us to exhibit a portion of it for the benefit of the summer visitors. Space forbids a detailed report so, dear reader, you must be content with a running picture of the highlights with which all Foremanites and newspaper reporters are familiar.

Most popular of the exhibits was a title belonging to an electric questionnaire in the form of a map. Names and short biographies of the great mathematicians of the world were displayed geographically on it and formed the instructive side of this popular exhibit.

Posters, decorative and instructive, provided an effective background. Everyday uses of mathematics was the theme of most of them. Designs filled in; in nooks and crannies their mathematical proportions and color relations pleased the eye.

"Balancing the leaves of the new Outer Drive bridge with counterweights was a complicated engineering job but the calculations for it were made with a simple algebra formula used daily by high school mathematics students. This is shown by a model of the bridge built to scale and charts prepared by the students of the Foreman High School . . .," began one Tribune article concerning our exhibit.

Notebooks and more notebooks, neat and complete, were filled with samples of the grade of work done here at Foreman. Models of mathematical machines, namely an angle bisector, a trisector, an abacus, a pantograph, and a set of proportional dividers had their case together with some small models of geometric solids and planes.

Some of the other projects were a scroll eight feet long, or wings of tangents and angles as found in astronomy, mathematics in doilies, towels, and quilt patterns, and an electric lamp together with a series of cards containing the formulae necessary to construct it.

To complete the picture, Father Mathematics appeared—at least in an original design for a mural done by Ulrich Schwerdtfeger.

Student chairman of the exhibit was Norbert Smith, whose outstanding assistants were Eugene Dabrowski, Charles Czapar, Ulrich Schwerdtfeger, Violet-Mae Boyce, and Margaret Hageman.

THIRD ROW: Schwerdtfeger, Youngberg, Nelson, Marine, Vizard, Peterson, Johnson.
SECOND ROW (Middle): Fisher, Huber, Sundene, Stevens, Calams, Czapar, Korsvik.
FIRST ROW: Johnson, Dempsey, Miss Hart, sponsor, Nast, Olsen.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

With the objective of fostering cleanliness in the school and in the community the Foreman Clean-up Campaign was launched under the sponsorship of the C.I.C. and under the direction of Mrs. Helen Ramm, and Miss Helen Hart. Charles Czapar was Chairman, Alice Olsen, secretary, and Ruth Marine, treasurer. The sub-committee chairmen were: Dorothy Sundene, program; Ulrich Schwerdtfeger, report book; Eleanore Youngberg, art; Ella Jane Stevens, reception; William Vizard, publicity; Frank Fisher, photography; and George Huber, contact.

As a novel theme for this year's drive the committee incorporated the idea of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs in every phase of the campaign: the stationery heading, the report books, the parade, and in the Clean-up play, "Snow White Suds in the Kingdom of Filth."

Since the primary purpose of the Clean-up Campaign was to foster civic pride and to cultivate a spirit of cleanliness, the committee worked zealously toward that goal. To stimulate interest, a poster contest was conducted in the elementary schools and a song contest in the high school. Through numerous letters, personal visits, and speeches by student delegates, the cooperation of community organizations was enlisted.

At Foreman itself a locker clean-up period was conducted; a check-up of classroom equipment in need of repair was made by an inspection committee; and a vacant lot across from the school was cleared of debris by a detail of the R.O.T.C.

Undoubtedly the most spectacular feature of the campaign was Foreman's Clean-up Parade, in which the R.O.T.C., the Clean-up committee, the C.I.C. representatives, Snow White, the Seven Dwarfs, and delegations of pupils from neighboring elementary schools carried posters and emphasized cleanliness.

THE SAFETY COUNCIL

Just as the fifty wards of the city have their representatives in the city council, the sixty-one divisions at Foreman have their representatives in the Safety Council, which meets every Wednesday.

At these meetings safety bulletins are distributed and the safety welfare of the students is discussed and the policies formed.

THE FOREMAN SERVICE

The Foreman Service Club consists of students who work in the school office, and who are selected generally from commercial classes. For eligibility an average of "G" or better is required and also a recommendation from a commercial teacher. The sixty girls who belong each semester do much detail record work that aids the administration of the school.

An important object of the club is to give the members experience for future office positions. In return for the service, students receive points that apply towards the Foreman monogram.

STENCIL CLUB

Started for the purpose of making stencils for school activities and for their own experience the club is fortunately sponsored by Mrs. Jayne. Booklets on St. Patrick's Day were neatly stenciled and distributed at an appropriate party held as one of the social events. The officers are assisted by a number of committees under which the club is progressing rapidly.

Eleanore Youngberg, President; Dorothy Hawley, Vice-President; Marion Groen, Secretary; Dorothy Knudson, Treasurer.

STAMP CLUB

The Foreman Stamp Club, sponsored by Mrs. Talbot, was organized to inform its members regarding stamp news, and to aid collectors in building up their collections. The relation of philately to the study of the arts, languages, history, and geography is stressed. The club meets every Monday, alternating program and social meetings with "laboratory" meetings to which collectors may bring their stamps to display, trade or mount.

There is the capable president, Virginia Wahl, of Miss Cooney's division, at the desk, while Morton Ljikowitz, the secretary, reads the minutes in French. Virginia Warren, the treasurer, is busy with her financial cases, while Eugene Knight, the vice-president (and General Manager) circulates about lending a hand whenever needed.

The programs are varied. They are in the hands of Committees drawn from the different classes. Plays, games, songs, and skits are all included in the programs. Refreshments are served by a per-manent committee composed of Patricia Killoran and Shirley Scott. Outstanding events of the year were the Foreign Language Party, at which the French Club played host, and the Spring Picnic.

PROJECTORS CLUB

The club, sponsored by Mrs. Vorisek, consists of boys who run the silent and sound projectors and the stereopticon for the science department and distribute films to the teachers. In order to become members they must present recommendations from their science teachers and must have a "G" average or better. Officers of the newly organized school service club are:

Eugene Dabrowski, President; Paul Richter, Vice-President; John Adams, Secretary.

Authorized operators are the officers, Wilfred Markowitch and Charles Kemp.

THE CHESS CLUB

The Chess and Checker Club is one of the oldest clubs at Foreman. Organized in 1934 by Mr. Jenkins, the club is still prospering under his sponsorship. The purpose of the club is to create interest in the grand old game of chess, to develop good sportsmanship, and at the same time give the members an enjoyable afternoon.

The ticket collectors are R. Zapfel, J. Koziol, W. Widtman, B. Niedziela, W. Markowitch. R. Smiechowiaz is in charge of the printing of tickets. R. Greinke and C. Romanowski file and address envelopes. The ticket department was one year old January 24, 1938. It distributes tickets and handles the financial details for school organizations.

FOREMAN NEWS REPRESENTATIVES

The Foreman News Representatives, sponsored by Mr. Teuscher, were selected because they were the "live wires" of their respective divisions. Much of the success of our newspaper is due to their sales ability. Trying to sell papers to students who think in terms of ice cream sandwiches and lollypops requires a knowledge of human nature and the psychology of selling. More power to you, representatives.

THE STAFF.

THE CHEER LEADERS

The cheer-leaders of Foreman High have been active at all the games of the season. During the school session they meet in a group in the basement, second period. Here they map out their cheers for the on-coming game. Mr. Stadtler, their supervisor, is very efficient in helping them get the right movement and timing with their bodies. The club consists of members tireless in energy, lusty of voice, and agile of body. Regardless of the size of the task they are asked to perform, the cheer-leaders are always there, pouring forth their inexhaustible supply of energy.

USHERS AND CANDY SELLERS

The ushers and candy sellers are sponsored by Mr. G. Stadtler. They usher and sell candy at almost every assembly given in school. Robert Erskine and Nick Alexeyuk have charge of the candy, and Nick Alexeyuk, Allan Peterson and Ed Holmes are in charge of the ushers.

BOYS' BOWLING CLUB

While the race for first place was a runaway for the Pin Splitters the competition for the other positions was spirited. The All-Star Team, representing Foreman at the A. B. C. meet, finished fourth in competition with forty other city high school leagues. The A. B. C. team was comprised of Sellke, Kolimas, Cazzatto, McNulty and Karnath.

As we go to press, we are happy to record a dazzling victory—the Foreman bowling team won the city high school championship!!!

BASEBALL

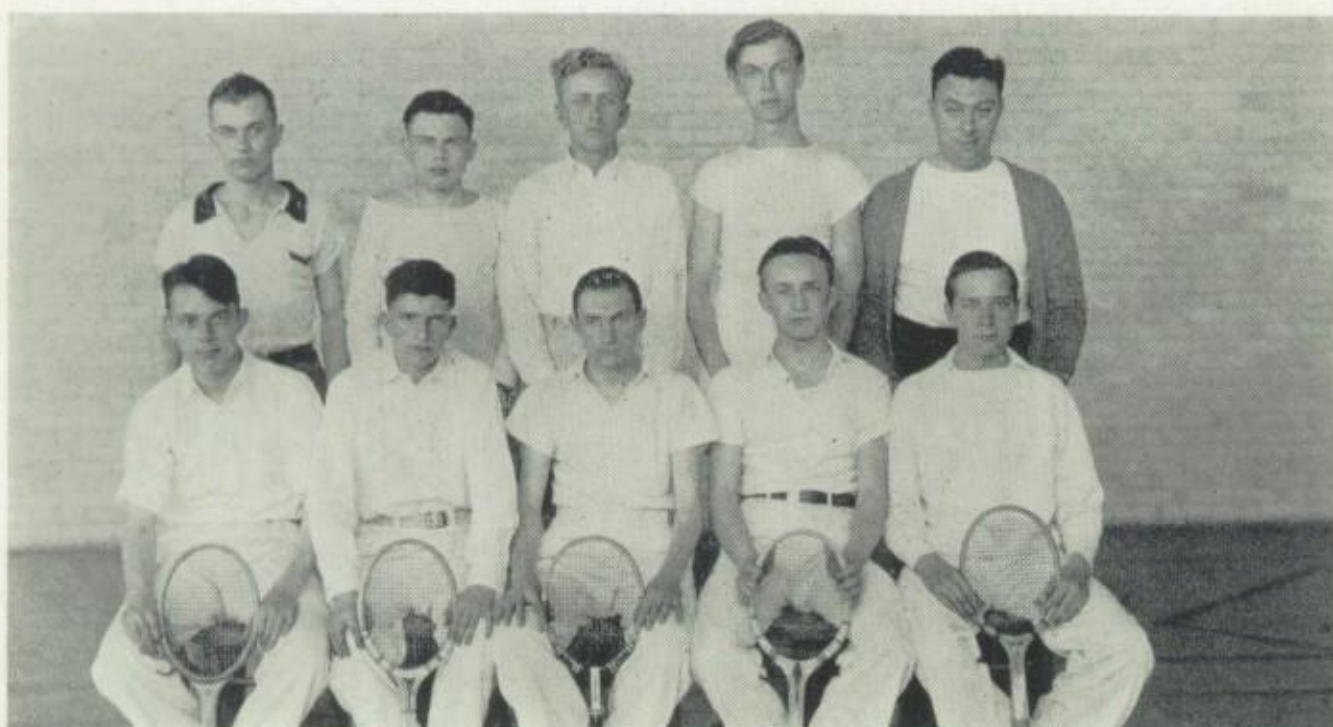

Foreman's third season of baseball in the West Section opened April 14 at Harrison. Foreman took a 7-2 lead, but two big innings gave Harrison a 9-7 victory. A heavy schedule of fourteen games must be played. Some of the boys from last year's team are: Captain Al Wistert, Kupczyk, Filippi, Richter, and Ondrejcin.

SECOND ROW: Eckardt, Kupczyk, Ernst, O'Malley, Wistert (Capt.), Fillippi, Peterson, Rogawski, Ash.

TOP ROW: Mr. Zahorik (Coach), Marquardt, Rudolph, Pabich, Ogorrek, Frank, Koziol, Richter, Eimers, Bredrup (Mgr.).

FIRST ROW: Hirsch, Pilz, Ofiara, Carlson, Henkel.

SECOND ROW: Mueller (Mgr.), Anderson, Kaczor, Schock, Mr. Maloff.

TENNIS TEAM

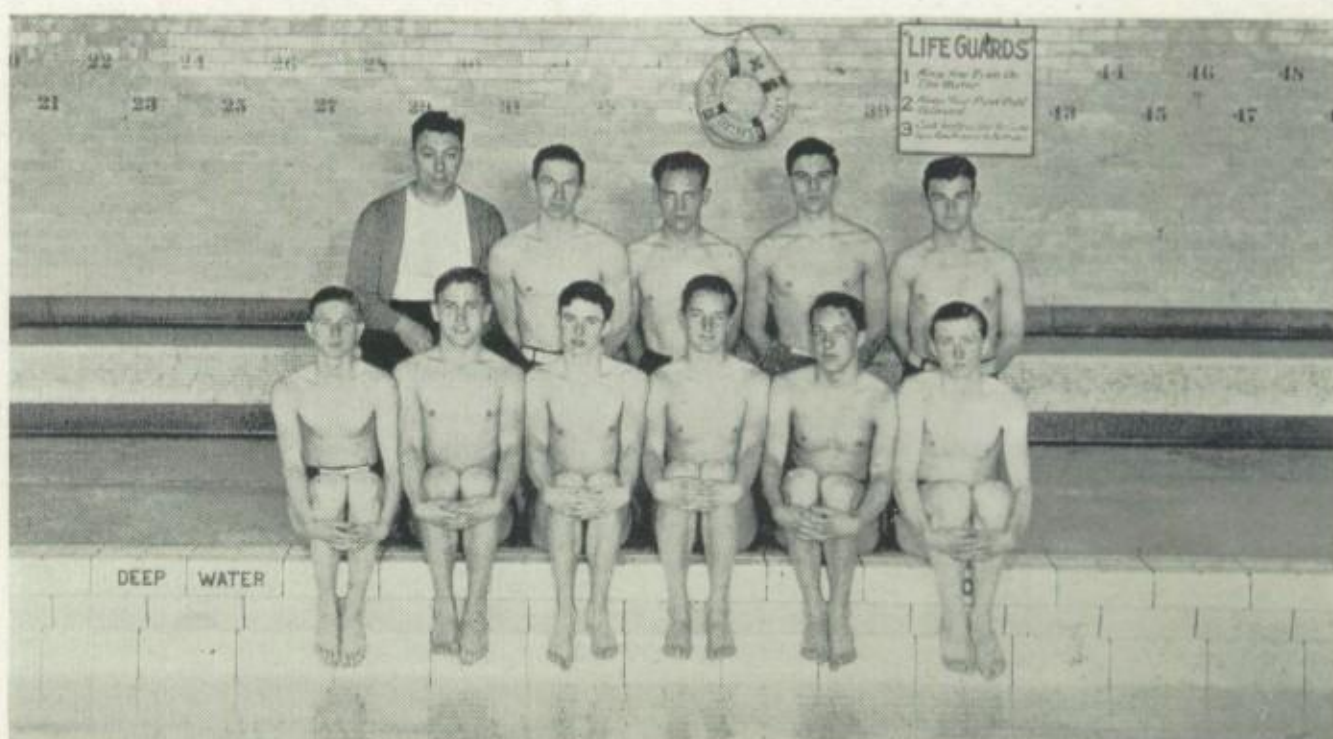

Cliff Pilz, Ted Kaczor, and Ed Ofiara, veterans of last season, will try to better Foreman's second place standing this year in the west section. Foreman lost only two matches last year. With the help of Alford Anderson, Vernon Schock, Robert Anderson, and Ted Hirsch, Foreman should finish considerably better this year. At the present time Foreman has won all of the opening matches.

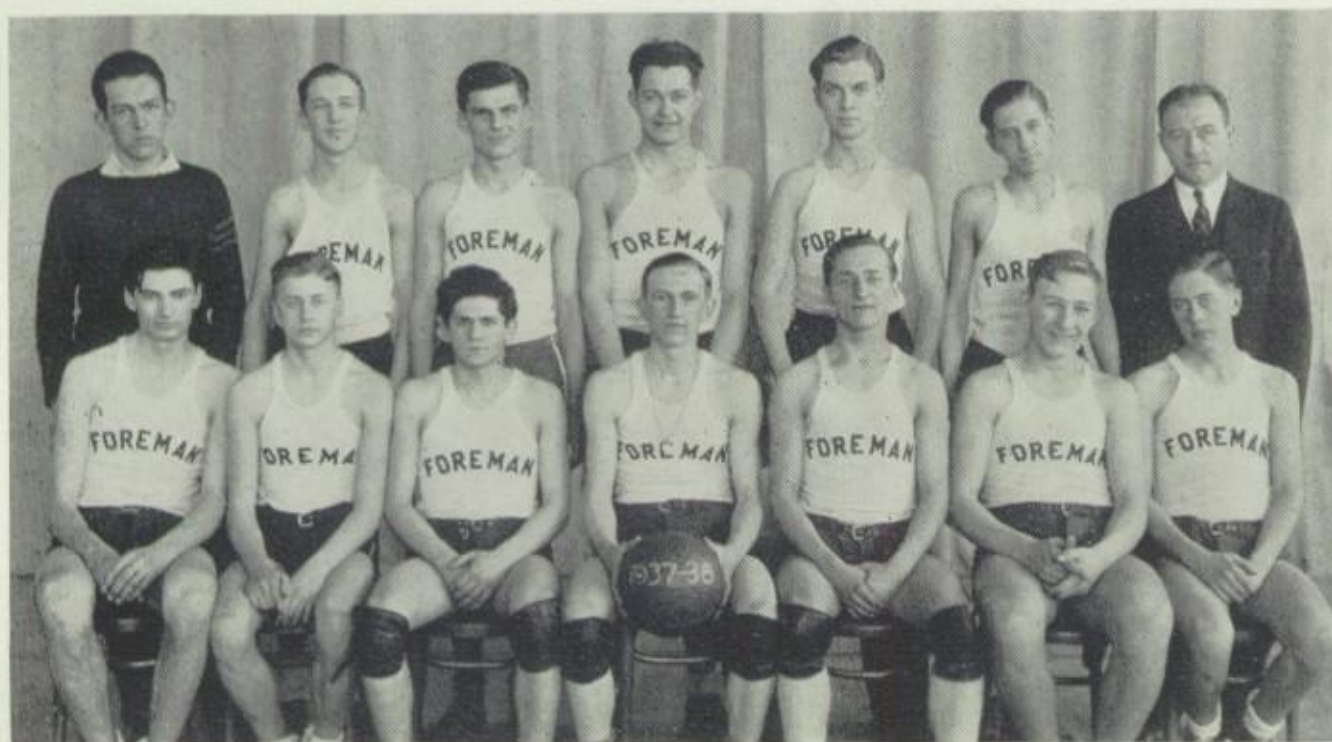

SWIMMING TEAM

The Swimming Team, under the expert direction of Coach Maloff, compiled a surprisingly good record for a team that has been out of competition for two years. The six-man relay team of McLaughlin, Ciennuch, Pedjas, Eliassen, Marzec, and Zintarski, won every dual race in the Spring '38. Suchow and Johnson, backstrokers, and Harnden and Roth, breast strokers, contributed their efforts to make a winning team.

FIRST ROW: Eliassen, Pedjas, Harnden, Johnson, Suckow, McLaughlin.

BASKETBALL—HEAVIES

The Senior team ranked with the best in the city, but with half of the season still ahead we lost Kilburg, center, Hackbarth, forward, and Leverson, guard, through graduation.

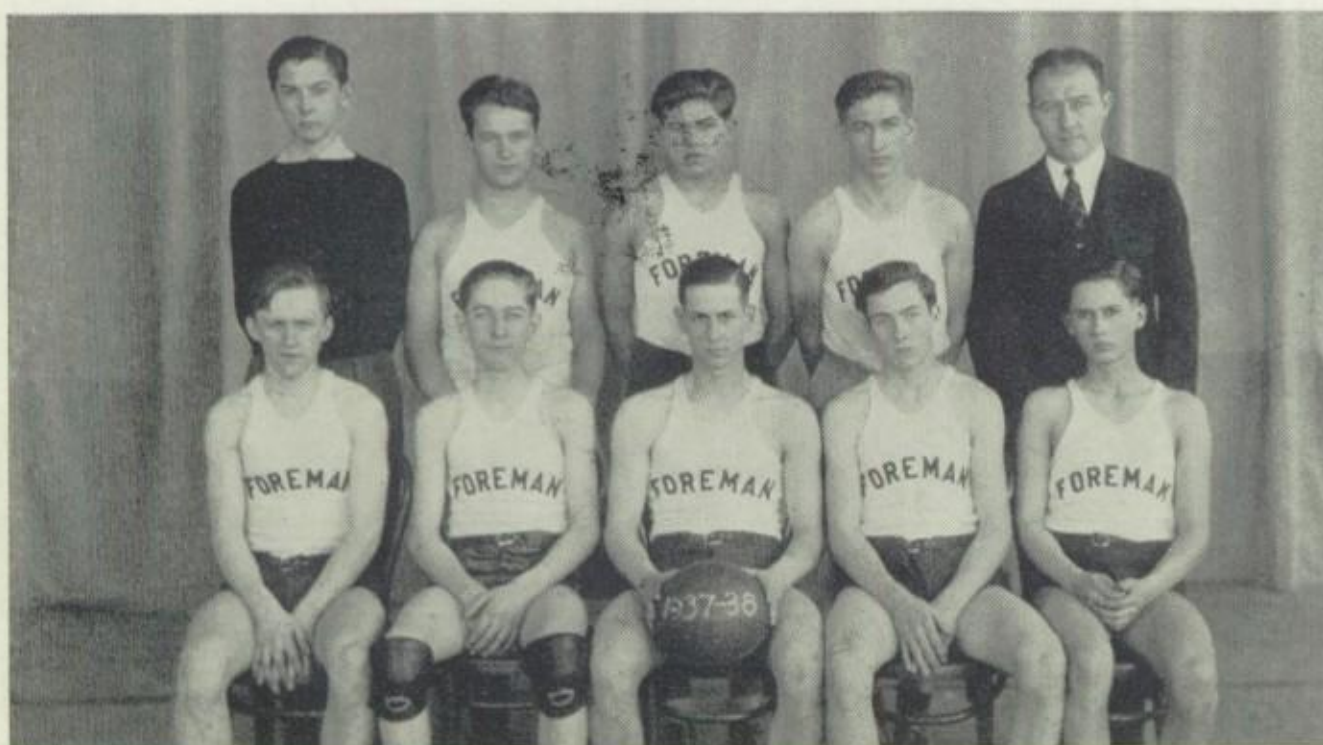

Captain Wroblewski and Wistert were the only regulars left.

In the University of Chicago tournament, Foreman beat Roosevelt in the first game, but after a tough battle with the strong Harper team we were eliminated.

BASKETBALL—LIGHTS

After a poor start, the Junior team showed improvement the second semester. With only Captain Filippi back from last year's team, Coach Zahorik had to organize from green material. Although the team lost a majority of their games, they fought hard and held much better teams to close scores.

Experience has been gained this year and, as we see it, there should be a better showing in the year to come.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association is one of the largest active organizations of Foreman High School, and its officers and Board of Control members form its nucleus. The Board of Control members are standing girls in the G. A. A., the Head of the Physical Education Department and the sponsor.

The Board of Control members are: Mildred Nelson, President; Dorothy Parkinson, Vice-President; Dorothy Finn, Secretary; Letty Meredith, Treasurer; Anne Bufarale, Recording Secretary; Columbia Bagerski, Evelyn Roth, Foreman News Reporters for Girls; Clara Andressen, Physical Ed.

Points are based on Physical-Education classwork, Health, Team Games, Individual Activities, Leadership and Service, and Scholarship.

Some of the physical activities that have shown rapid growth are Bowling, with Dorothy Nast and Ruth Strassburger, managers; Horseback riding with Grace Ryan, manager; Tennis with Evelyn Roth as manager; and Life Saving.

G. A. A. (Continued)

Training for leadership and service plays a very important part in the physical education program. Fifty students are appointed each semester to act as leaders, selected on the basis of special aptitudes such as initiative, resourcefulness and responsibility.

The student leaders assist with the checking of attendance, help the teacher supervise the activities of the various squads and take charge of the class in emergency. Points awarded for service may be counted toward the school letter awarded by the G.A.A. or toward the school monogram.

THE LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The Lettermen, sponsored by Mr. Teuscher, are boys who have received awards for outstanding athletic achievements. The club has roused student interest and support for the furtherance of athletics at Foreman. A team letter is one of the most distinguishing awards, and it is the aim of every boy on the athletic field to win one.

THE R.O.T.C.

The tramping of feet, the echo of commands, the sight of medal bedecked cadets in uniforms, all bring attention to Foreman's R. O. T. C. Established back in the fall of 1935 the unit, under the capable guidance of Sgt. William H. Hill, has been growing in popularity and in quality.

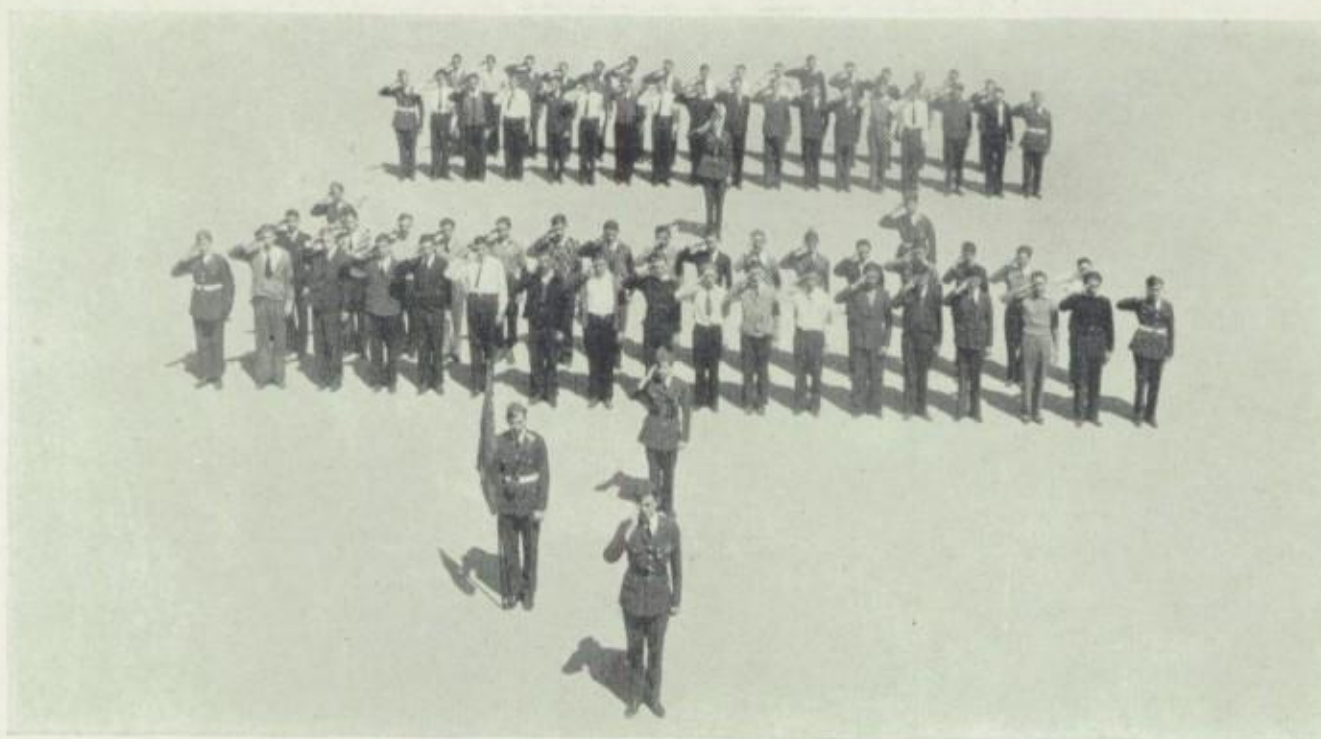

This year the officers are: Cadet Major Charles Czapar, Battalion Commander; Cadet 1st Lieut. Elmer Larsen, Adjutant; Cadet Captains Leslie Jacobsen, Allan Peterson, and Theodore Hursh, Company Commanders. Cadet 1st Lieut. Arthur Henkel is Publicity Officer.

The R.O.T.C. course includes a variety of subjects, such as Military Courtesy and Discipline, First Aid and Sanitation, Physical Training, Drill and Rifle Marksmanship, and many more which make the time spent in the periods light and interesting. Not only does the R. O. T. C. afford the opportunity of the above subjects, but it also has many outside activities such as parades, the annual rose sale and dance, and many more military and social events.

Co. "B" executing "Right Dress."

The outstanding event of the year was Foreman's Federal Inspection on May 3rd. At that time the whole unit turned out for its annual inspection by federal army officers. That day it was really impressive to view rank after rank of khaki-clad boys marching, as one, pass the reviewing stand with heads high and shoulders back. Medals were given to the outstanding cadets by the R. O. T. C. Headquarters, the Tribune, the Belmont Park Post No. 597 of the American Legion, the unit's sponsor; and several other organizations.

The future of the cadet corp is very promising indeed. The evacuation for the rifle range is already completed, and the cadets are expecting to shoot after the installation of the equipment.
